

I have become aware that you are considering federalizing the "no call" law, and adding some loopholes that Indiana does not have in the process. This concerns me greatly. Very few laws in recent memory have had such an immediate and positive effect on my lifestyle. It is so nice to know that when we pick up the phone, it will be to talk to someone we want to talk to. If you want to federalize Indiana's law, I'm fully behind your action. If you are going to make it easier for solicitors to begin to interrupt my leisure time again, I strongly urge you to please reconsider.

Thank-you for your time.

David Fassett